From Sensei

Nurtured by the Nembutsu Life

"The person burdened with extreme evil should simply say the name: Although I too am within Amida's grasp, passions obstruct my eyes and I cannot see the Light. Nevertheless, great compassion is untiring and illumines me always" (Shoshin-ge)

Summer is over, and the temperatures in the Okanagan have cooled down considerably. The children are now adjusting to being back at school. Over the months of July and August, Obon Services were held in the Okanagan communities. This year we had a better summer with fewer wildfires than we had experienced last summer.

At the end of August, the AGM for the Okanagan Temples was held at the Vernon Buddhist Temple. At that time the leaders of the three Okanagan Temples usually get together to plan for the coming year. After that we had the opportunity to attend the World Buddhist Women's Convention in San Francisco. This Convention is held every four years, with the venues alternated among the five districts: Hawaii, Japan, America, Canada, and South America. Some of you may recall that four years ago in 2015, Canada hosted the Convention in Calgary. This year, the Convention was hosted by the Buddhist Churches of America. The Convention was well attended with around 1700 participants. The number of attendees were as follows: Buddhist Churches of America, 860, Japan 634, Hawaii 132, Canada 32, South America 19. It was a special opportunity for us participants to be able to meet with such large group of other Nembutsu followers to share the teachings. At the same, we welcomed our Go-Monshu, Kojun Ohtani to the Convention. It was a great honor for all of us.

The theme for the Convention was "Live the Nembutsu" (O-nembutsu-ni-ikasarete). There were two Keynote speakers – one speaker from BCA who spoke in English, the other was from Japan, and spoke in Japanese. All Dharma talks were simultaneously translated into English, Japanese and Portuguese. The Keynote speakers talked about growing up within a Temple family, and the influence of the Nembutsu on the development of their lives. The Japanese speaker used Shan-tao's Parable of the "White Path in Two Rivers: River of Fire, River of Water," to understand her own life. The English speaker also reflected on her life as receiving the love and compassion from her parents and grandparents. She described how, over the years, she had experienced an inferiority complex, and in her earlier life had rebelled against Buddhism.

In becoming a Minister, she recognized that she had benefitted greatly from her Nembutsu family. Living with her 102-year-old mother, who was deteriorating and in the early stages of dementia, she experienced a sense of helplessness, distress, and frustration. She often had angry outbursts with her mother, despite knowing that she should be more patient and understanding with her. As she encountered these difficulties, she became more aware of the impact of her own behavior on her mother, as well as on other family members. After some reflection about her everyday life, she recognized herself as being a "bonbu" (foolish being). With shame she realized her need for humility not arrogance that she was struggling with in her own life. This realization came from her honest reflections with her parents and family members who had lived all their lives and been nurtured by the Nembutsu.

As young children, most of us are nurtured by parents and family members with care and tenderness. Yet children often don't seem to understand the feelings of their parents and grandparents. These early relationships can also influence our relationships with other people. Growth and experience allow us as young children to begin to sense the emotions of others who are suffering as our own suffering and their joy as our joy. As we become older, we become able to understand the feelings of others and to develop a sense of empathy.

It was an insightful presentation for us, with a theme that everyone could relate to. Both speakers spoke with honesty and sensitivity that touched the audience deeply. Their stories were not special, but rather focused on the everyday stresses and difficulties of life that many of us experience.

At the Convention, we also had the opportunity to participate in many workshops. These workshops ranged from Practicing Yoga. Making Chocolate, Reflecting on the History of American Internment camps on the Japanese, Buddhist Psychology and Therapy. There were at least twenty sessions that were offered. We attended Qigong, American History, Buddhist psychology and therapy, as well as another interesting workshop titled "Congruence between Jodo Shinshu Buddhism and Ecological Sustainability through Mottainai."

We felt enriched by the workshops in every way: spiritually, and practically. We wished that we could have attended, all of the workshops, but there was simply not enough time in the schedule.

As we reflect on the Convention theme "Live the Nembutsu" we indeed recognize the many ways through which we can deepen our understanding of life. As we interact with Dharma friends throughout the world, we recognize that we are all connected to one another through the untiring compassion of Amida Buddha.

From the Temple Executive

I hope everyone had an enjoyable summer. It was nice to have a smoke free summer for a change. Hopefully this will continue for the upcoming years.

It was nice to see so many Temple members and out of town friends at our Obon service. Our guest minister was Fujikawa Sensei. It is always great to meet and reminisce with Fujikawa Sensei and family.

On August 5th, we lost our long-time friend and Temple pillar, Morio Tahara. Morio's contributions to the Temple over the years are immeasurable. We will miss Morio and offer our deepest condolences to the Tahara family.

Rick Suzuki and I recently attended the BC Interior Shin Buddhist Temples AGM. Once again, a major topic of discussion was Kelowna, Kamloops and Kelowna Temples' challenge of declining memberships and budget pressures. Our on-going viability depends on increasing our membership. If you are not yet a member, please consider joining us and everyone please also encourage friends and family members to join the Temple. Barb Yamaoka is our Membership Coordinator and she will be happy to hear from you.

Autumn is an extremely busy time at the Temple. Chow Mein, Farmer's Market and Apple Pies all happen in a five week period. These fund raisers are crucial for the financial survival of the Temple and can only be accomplished with the help of our tireless volunteers. I would encourage everyone to come out and lend a hand. The more help we have, the faster and easier the tasks can be accomplished.

On September 8th, we held a farewell party for Temple friends Geneva Cavanaugh and Michael Martin, who are moving to Duncan, on Vancouver Island. Geneva and Michael worked tirelessly for the Temple, serving on the Board, devoting their time mentoring our children at Dharma School and generally performing all tasks asked of them. Most of all, Geneva and Michael are kind and wonderful friends who will be sorely missed. We wish Geneva and Michael all the best in their new life. Please keep in touch – our doors are always open to you.

We have a wonderful community at the Temple and it is up to all members to preserve and improve upon this legacy in any way, large or small. Our Board of Directors is presently short three members and we implore all members to consider serving next year when elections are held in November.

Jodo Shinshu Buddhist Temples of Canada (JSBTC) Day 2019

JSBTC or Jodo Shinshu Buddhist Temples of Canada Day is a special memorial service which is traditionally held by local temples across Canada in the months of October or November to observe, remember and honour our pioneers of Jodo Shinshu Buddhism and all who were followers in Canada. Our first Jodo Shinshu minister arrived from Nishi Hongwanji (our mother temple in Kyoto, Japan) to Vancouver on October 12, 1905 and thus the month of October is important in Canada to mark our historical beginnings.

JSBTC Day allows us all to gather together at our local temples to collectively express our gratitude to all those who spread the Dharma Teachings before us.

As is often the case, we can think of things in relation to the past, the present and the future. We can think of the past in terms of all those dedicated Jodo Shinshu followers and ministers who have preceded us and remember them for all that they have done to get us where we are now. Our present thoughts can be centered on our current ministers who guide us in our daily lives now. For the future, let us remember to provide for our dedicated retired ministers as well as those ministers who may be considering retirement in the future.

This year, our National Board of Directors want to ensure that a part of any donations kindly made towards JSBTC Day goes directly to our Ministers' Retirement Fund. Let us all remember with gratitude those who have passed before us and share in

The summer has come and gone and we are now moving toward fall when it is time for our fund raising activities.

Although the summer was relatively quiet, the ladies did arrange for the refreshments for Morio Tahara's funeral on August 9, 2019. Sincere condolences to the Tahara family.

The Food Safe course was held on September 7, 2019 at the Temple. Nine people attended this course and everyone passed which means they will get a Food Safe Level One certificate of completion. If this course is offered again I would encourage you to take this course. The Certificate is good for 5 years and within that 5 years you can renew by taking a refresher course. The Women's Association provided a subsidy of 50% for the course cost and the Kelowna Buddhist Temple will be covering the other 50%. We greatly appreciate those who took the course as there always needs to be someone with a Food Safe certificate on site when food is prepared or cooked. Thanks Joyce for making arrangements for the course and for making lunch for us that day.

I attended the World Women's Conference that was held August 31 and September 1, 2019 in San Francisco. Reverend Miyakawa and Valerie also attended. The conference had 1700 attendees who came from Japan, Brazil, USA, Hawaii and Canada. The theme of the conference was "Living the Nembutsu" and key note speakers and panelists provided their thoughts on what the Nembutsu means to them and how it affects their daily lives. Attending this conference makes one realize that it is not only in our Temple that we chant Sanbujo and sing the gatha Shinshu Shuka, but that others do the same regardless of whether they speak English, Portuguese or Japanese. It reminds one that we do not practice Jodo Shinshu Buddhism in isolation. The next conference will be held in Kyoto, Japan on May 11th & 12th 2023.

Hope to see you at the upcoming fund raising activities. The Womens Association welcomes any help in making lunches for the various work parties.

these quiet moments of JSBTC Day services together and also remember those in our present and future who we can help to secure a decent and well deserved retirement. Please kindly check with your local temple for the date of the JSBTC Day Memorial Service and let us all observe, remember and honour with gratitude together as one common national sangha.

With Gratitude and in Gassho,

From The Editor

On August 5, 2019, our Temple community lost another pioneer member. Mr. Morio Tahara passed away at the age of 90 years, after a 13 year odyssey with Liver Cancer. In his indomitable way, he was able to defy the odds and live many productive years with this disease. Shortly after his diagnosis, Morio entered an experimental program to help researchers better understand liver cancer, in their search for effective treatments. His participation in the program has helped improve outcomes for future cancer patients. Morio's contributions to our Temple and Jodo Shinshu Buddhism in Canada is also legendary. He served on our Temple's Board of Directors as the membership chairperson for many years. He was a mentor to me personally and together we attended many B.C.J.S.B.T. F. meetings in Hope as well as J.S.B.T.C. AGM's in Calgary and Toronto and Obon celebrations in Vernon and Kamloops. Morio was always willing to thoughtfully share his vast insight on all matters. Morio and I shared common Kagoshima heritage and I always felt a little kinship with him. We had many discussions throughout the years about a vast array of subjects. Morio never left me guessing about where he stood on issues. I would often say to him, "Morio, tell me how you really feel." He would grumble then elaborate further to back up his opinion. Not only have Morio and Jane, contribute their time and talents to our Temple in many ways, they have also generously contributed monetarily as well. When we celebrated the 75th anniversary of the Kelowna Buddhist Society in 2007, they, along with the family of the late Sharon Tanemura—Maynard, volunteered to each provide half of the funding to enable us to commission the creation of our Shinran Shonin statue. The statute, featured in the foyer of the Temple, serves as a visual reminder of not only the founder of our school of Buddhism but the generosity of our benefactors. I will miss being able to speak with Morio and will cherish my many memories of his life well lived. I extend my warmest thoughts to Jane, Jack, Laurie, Tim and their entire extended family.

Thank-you Morio. Namo Amida Butsu,

2019 Jodo Shinshu Buddhist Temples of Canada Day - Socho's Message

“Those who are born first, guide those who come later, and those who are born later, join those who were born before them. This is so that the Boundless Ocean of birth-and-death may be exhausted.” (In “ Passages on the Land of Happiness” , by master Tao-ch’o [562-645])

I would like to express my most sincere appreciation to all the Jodo Shinshu Temples of Canada (JSBTC), ministers, ministers’ assistants, national board of directors, and all temple members and non-members for keeping our organization active and accessible. Through observations at the local temples and the national organization, it is very clear that all of the ministers and national board of directors across Canada are working tirelessly for the sake of our temples, for all the members, and for the community at large. May I ask you for your continued support for our ministers and directors.

We had three candidates from Canada, Dr. Roland Ikuta (Lethbridge), Jeff Hains (Lethbridge), and Tanis Morre (Winnipeg), successfully completed their Tokudo ordination at Nishi Hongwanji on July 15th, 2019. They will be assisting their sensei and the temples to propagate Jodo Shinshu in Canada.

On this annual observance of the Jodo Shinshu Day, I would like to share a story of the famous physicist Albert Einstein, who was invited to Japan in the fall of 1922. He was interested in Buddhism and paid a visit to Reverend Joka Chikazumi, a Jodo Shinshu minister. Einstein asked him about the Buddha Dharma, especially the heart of the Buddha (“Buddha-mind”). It is said that Rev. Chikazumi told him the story of Ubasuteyama (the old custom of abandoning old people, usually women, deep in the mountains). A young man was hurrying along a mountain path carrying his aged mother on his back. Along the trail deep in the mountains, the mother was breaking off tree twigs and dropping them on the path. She was marking the path with a trail of twigs. The young man thought that his mother was leaving a trail of twigs so that she could later make her way out of the mountains. When they arrived at their destination, the son, bidding his mother farewell, was about to leave when she said, “Since I didn’t want you to become lost, I left a trail of twigs for you. Follow it as you make your way back home.” It is said that when the young man heard this, he didn’t have the heart to leave her there and so once again put her on his back and carried her home down the mountain.

For whom is the trail of broken twigs? It is for my child who is hurrying on his way to abandon his parent. This fable reflects the feelings that the aged mother held in her heart. We can clearly see that they were not meant to reproach him for taking her deep into the mountains to abandon her; but rather it was her own abandoning of her “self”, and that as a mother, her sole concern was the safety of her child. Although her son was intending to abandon her, she was receptive and accepting of him, completely as he was. Rev. Chikazumi told Einstein that this commiseration is likened to the Buddha’s compassion. Einstein, when he came to know that according to the Buddha- Dharma, the heart of the Buddha does not pass judgment on whether something is good or evil, he was elated to have encountered this kind of religion for the first time, and said that in order for us to realize true peace that is free of conflict, we must learn from this. I feel that Jodo Shinshu will continue to provide important religious values, not to mention relevance, to society in general.

As for me, Shinran, I have never said the nembutsu even once for the repose of my departed father and mother. For all sentient beings, without exception, have been our parents and brothers and sisters in the course of countless lives in the many states of existence. On attaining Buddhahood after this present life, we can save every one of them. Were saying the nembutsu indeed a good act in which I strove through my own powers, then I might direct the merit thus gained towards saving my father and mother. But this is not the case. If, however, simply abandoning self-power, we quickly attain enlightenment in the Pure Land, we will be able to save, by means of transcendent powers, first those with whom we have close karmic relations, whatever karmic suffering they may have sunk to in the six realms through the four modes of birth.

Thus were his words.
