From Sensei: Nourish All That Is Good In You

Summer has arrived, and people are engaged in outdoor activities- planting and tending their gardens, having picnics and camping activities, family get-togethers. As Buddhists, summertime and Obon are intertwined for many of us. This is a time that brings us back to our roots, and inner spirituality, and the sense of connectedness that comes from our realization of the depth of compassion of Amida Buddha. We live in an increasingly complicated world, which is often filled with hardships and difficulties. We do our best to teach our young to make the right choices, ethically, socially and spiritually; but it's a difficult world with difficult choices to be made. I would like to share the following story with you, since it conveys a simple yet profound message which touches peoples of all cultures.

A long time ago, before Europeans came to America, there was a young Indian warrior who grew in wisdom and strength to become the chief of a mighty tribe. Everyone in the tribe admired their wise chief, and praised him for his leadership. No one loved or admired him more than his son. This boy earnestly wanted to be like his father, but he seemed to fall short in so many ways. How would he ever be able to follow his father's lead, and eventually become a great chief himself? The son was a strong and handsome boy, but sometimes he made wrong choices. He did not seem to show all the strengths and attributes that his father had. He was not always able to shoot his arrows straight, was not always successful in the hunt, and was not always able to run as fast or wrestle as skillfully as the other boys.

Many evenings he would sit up on a great rock that overlooked the lake and think about his problems until the sun set behind the mountains. He would think about his future, and what lay ahead for him. Would he ever become as wise and as strong like his father, or would he fall short of his father's expectations.

One evening when this young man could bear it no longer, he decided to approach his father, to talk about his future. As they sat together, the young man poured out his thoughts and his fears to his father. His father listened patiently, and did not speak for a long time. Finally, his father looked at him and replied: "My son, I remember when I was your age, I struggled with many of these questions, just like you. I used to feel that there were two sides to me. It seemed as if I had two kinds of dogs within me. One was a good dog, and for a while it seemed to be on top, and I would take pleasure in doing in good deeds. I felt as though I would always be able to accomplish good and decent things. But there was also the bad dog inside that would come along and fight with the good dog and keep pulling him down. At times the bad dog would undermine me, and I would fail at everything. There would be a constant struggle back and forth between the good and the bad."

The son's eyes lit up with recognition as his father spoke: "Yes father, I also feel that there are two dogs fighting within me! Some days the good dog seems to be on top, but there are days the bad dog seems to have driven the good dog out of me completely. But how can I be sure that the good dog will become the main force in my life?" The father looked at his son and said, "You know, son, the answer is simple - the dog that will win will be the one that you feed the most. That is the one that will survive. Keep feeding the good dog, and everything will turn out OK.

In many ways this story describes our human nature, and our constant struggle between good and bad. Shinran Shonin described our nature as bonbu (foolish beings). "Our desires are countless, and anger, wrath, jealousy, and envy are overwhelming, arising without pause; to the very last moment of life they do not disappear, or exhaust themselves." Rennyō Shonin, in his Kikigaki described our human tendency to revert to our bonbu nature as follows: "A man spoke his mind, saying, 'my mind is like pouring water into a basket. When I listen to the Buddha-Dharma in the hall, I am filled with a grateful and reverential feeling. When I leave, however, I revert to my old mind.' This was Rennyō Shonin's admonition 'Put your basket into the water. Keep your body soaked in the water of Dharma.' He continued, 'You go wrong when shinjin is lacking. What the master refers to as 'wrong' is lack of shinjin."

I hope that everyone will have a wonderful and safe summer. Nurture all that is good within you. Once it has germinated, it will continue to grow and flourish. Immerse yourselves into the Dharma, because that is what nourishes the good that is within us.

In Gassho, Yasuhiro Miyakawa

From the Temple Executive

Time seems to just fly by. It seems just like yesterday was winter and now we will soon be over the summer. They say the older you get the faster the time slips away.

We had a successful plant and bake sale held in May. Thank you to all that helped and to all that donated bake goods and also thank you to all the people that helped make the sushi and gyoza. I understand that all the sushi was sold out very quickly. Sure beats having the flea market. Obon service will be coming up on July 11th. Odori practice is being held on Thursday June 24th at 7PM for those that would like to try some of the dances.

Sensei James Martin will be our guest minister at the Obon. There will be welcome dinner for those that would like to attend at 6PM at the Orient restaurant. Please call Tim Tahara to confirm your attendance. Sensei Miyakawa will be holding the Fourth Annual 12 hour chanting Marathon Chanting event on August 6, 2010 to be held at the Kelowna Buddhist Temple. Please support Sensei in this activity by attending or by sending folded paper cranes as a symbol of peace and non-violence throughout the world. A great big thank you to Herb Tanaka for putting on the Buddhist movie nights. The new flat screen TV is coming in handy thanks to the Dharma school. Hope to see you all at the Obon

Message from the Editor

Tired, but a good tired? Spent the day yesterday on Okanagan Lake... Kayaking! Six of us rented kayaks for the day and paddled along the shore line for a very enjoyable time.

I'm sure everyone has done something that they enjoyed, knowing that the next day (or two), your muscles and back would complain about the physical exertion.

My body feels the same after volunteering at the Temple for Chow Mein, yet I still keep going back for more. Pain, but a good pain, because not only do you enjoy the activity with friends, but it gives you a sense of being alive. We have a Taiko performance at the Delta Grande Okanagan Resort this weekend, hopefully I can lift my arms up past my shoulders by then. This summer is going to go by like a space shuttle taking off... fast, but hopefully I will experience more fun and pain.

I think there is room for lots of things to do in a day, if you are organized and stay focused... please leave time for Temple functions and support Sensei whenever and however you can.

This publication will take a month off, and start-up again at the end of August, I am looking forward to the brief, but welcome sabbatical. As a final comment about this publication, we have several people receiving it via email or off the web, please consider this option over the coming months and let us know if you really need a mailed copy... postage fees, and printing costs could be saved and it is easier on the environment. See everyone at Obon.

Thus I Have Heard From Rennyō Shōnin

The beacon does not shine on its own base: There is a saying, "What appears distant is actually near; what appears near is actually distant." As the saying goes, "The beacon does not shine on its own base," those who always hear the Buddha-Dharma are so used to receiving the Buddha's benevolence that they take it for granted, and so they tend to neglect the Dharma. However, those who are far removed from the Dharma are eager to hear it and seek it diligently. One comes to hear the Buddha-Dharma seriously upon securing the mind to seek it intently.

May each and everyone enjoy good health and spirits in the light of compassion of Amida Buddha as we soon welcome summer season.

As I was reading a book, I came across an interesting dialogue between a Chinese Buddhist Master Dokutan and a visitor Enjo.

*“Where do you come from?” asked the Master.
 The visitor replied, “I came from Kyoto.”
 “What have you been practicing?” asked the Master.
 The visitor replied, “I have been practicing the Pure Land School.”
 “How old is Amida Buddha?” asked the Master.
 The visitor: “Amida Buddha is the same age as I am.”
 The Master: “Then how old are you?”
 The visitor: “I am as old as Amida Buddha.”
 The Master: “Where is Amida Buddha?”
 The visitor simply extended his fist in front of the Master.*

According to the Pure Land sutra, Bodhisattva Dharmakara spent five long kalpas in contemplation before becoming Amida Buddha ten kalpas ago. Shinran Shonin praised Amida Buddha in the Jodo Wasan.

*Amida has passed through ten kalpas now
 Since realizing Buddhahood.
 Dharma-body's wheel of light is without bound,
 Shining on the blind and ignorant of the world.*

We must continue to listen to the causes and conditions of the Vows of Amida Buddha.

2010 is the year we commemorate Shinran Shonin's 750th Memorial in Canada. It is a great opportunity for us to deepen the understanding of our tradition as well as to promote it to the public.

仏教伝道協会発行の本の中に次のようなおもしろい問答がありました。

京都山城の円恕（えんじょ）という坊さんが、座禅と念仏の黄檗宗万福寺の独湛和上を訪ねたとき、和上が「お前さんどこから来た」と聞きます。

「山城から参りました」「何宗の者だ」「浄土のものでございます」

そこで独湛は「阿弥陀様の年はいくつだ」と聞きます。「私と同一年です」と答えました。

「それではお前はいくつだ」「阿弥陀様と同一年」

「それでは阿弥陀様はどこにいるか」円恕は左手のこぶしをグッと目の前に挙げました。

浄土教のお経には、「法蔵菩薩が五劫という長い間考えたのち、さらに途方もない長い時間をかけて修行し、阿弥陀如来となり、今現在お浄土で説法をしておられる」とあります。

Human Sexuality?

In early March of this year I received an urgent email—
"I am a Jodo Shinshu follower from Hawaii, living in Japan. Your website is excellent and I thank you for all the resources there - music and newsletters especially. There is a link on your site, however, which needs to be changed ASAP! It is labeled "Vancouver Buddhist Church" but links to a sex website with the address <http://www.vancouverbuddhistchurch.ca/> (not that there is anything wrong with human sexuality per se, but it is quite inappropriate in this context, ne). The site should be changed to "Vancouver Buddhist Temple" (I think) and the address to: <http://vancouverbuddhisttemple.com/>. In gassho, Ward Schmidt—Kashima City, Ibaraki (home to Shinran Shonin in exile), Japan"

I have fixed the link (before you try to check), so I'm asking for your forgiveness yet again. It seems that the web host can keep the link active, because originally I did have it right. We receive over 60 different viewers to our web site a day (from around the world), hopefully no one else discovered my error, but is searching for interest in Buddhism not human sexuality. Yet another item that I will do my best to keep an more watchful eye on—In Gassho—blushing—jiro (thank you so much Ward, it could have gone on for many more years unchecked).

The JSBTC (Formerly BCC) Women's Federation is launching a 'Gift Card Shop and Support Campaign' to major retailers (for a complete list, contact Tomoye Yamaoka, or Barb Yamaoka) - a portion of the Gift Card will go to support the 2015 Women's Convention and the 750th Anniversary (2011) of the passing of our Founder, Shinran Shonin. Obviously these cards will make a great Birthday, Anniversary or Christmas Gift, they will be made available over the next few months, however, don't delay, get your Gift Cards today. In Gassho

Funjinkai Report and Plant & Bake Sale Summary

Our grateful thanks to all who answered our call for help with the plant and bake/food sale. Our first attempt to have a bake/food sale was moderately successful, with all the Japanese food - sushi, gyoza - selling out early. Items donated by the ladies of their baking is listed below. Thank you all a bunch!

We are very fortunate to be recipients of a quantity of first grade kazunoko from Bruce and Nan Tasaka and which will be available through any Board member. Thanks very much to the Tasaka's for your generous donation!

We also wish to express our thanks to June Ikuta for her donation of containers for sauces for take-out, which we had inquired at many places without success.

Obon odori practices will begin on Thurs. June 17th. Hope many of you turn out and support Shoko-san try to teach us 2 left footers.

This is written by one of our TSS meditation group members. It is written from the heart, and expresses so beautifully the feelings of awakening to the compassion of Amida.

Almost Wasted

*Throughout life Amida called,
Sent messengers to beckon.
Teachers to open heart and mind,
So mired in seas of ignorance
Like a recalcitrant child
Who takes evil delight in confusion.
Suffering becomes ego,
And ego is suffering.
To have called The Name,
And being embraced by Light,
The mind opens and comprehends
The dark useless dross that
This life has been.
So grateful for Amida's compassion,
To never give up.
This spirit now soars
With gratitude and purpose,
This life not wasted.
